

Prof. Norbert László Jost, PhD, DSc

(Szeged, Hungary)

Prof. Norbert László Jost is a Senior leading researcher at the Department of Pharmacology and Pharmacotherapy from the Albert Szent-Györgyi Medical School, University of Szeged. He became Full professor in 2022, he currently supervises the Patch-Clamp Laboratory, and is the leader of HUN-REN-SZTE Research Group of Cardiovascular Pharmacology, an independent research group affiliated to the Department of Pharmacology and Pharmacotherapy and financed by the Hungarian Ministry of Science and Innovation.

From May, 2024 he serves also as Director of the Doctoral School of Multidisciplinary Medicine, Albert Szent-Györgyi Medical School, University of Szeged.

His main research interest is the investigation the heart physiology and pathophysiology focusing on the mechanisms of cardiac arrhythmias in order to discover and develop novel antiarrhythmic drug molecules. He is the author of more than 80 papers published in peer reviewed journals including high impact ones (Circulation, Cardiovasc Res, J Physiol, British J Pharmacol, etc.) with a total number of approx. 3250 citations and an H index of 27. He was the PI or senior member of more than 30 projects and supervised the doctoral work of 6 PhD students.